Strange man comences Attack

It was the morning of saturday the 7th when a strange dinosaur like creature was spotted near the Dam. A few hours later a strange man in high boots appeared.

He then took out a whistle & blew it causing all of the mini dinosaurs to go in a irreversible trance the creatures then proceeded to attack several towns folk (image above). According to the towns folk they where cute creatures until they where made angry by the whistle. for 2 houers the creatures broke into several homes & assulted those inside stealing multiple items for there strange leader including a doorframe several old socks a pillow & a spoon.

Thankfully several swat teams showed up to contain the situation, they managed to capture some of the creatures in a cage & brought them to macintosh labs. The man however was very hard to find & the swat teams couldn't find the man they did however find a couple of items scattered across the road. If you do see the man or one of the blob creatures pleas call the provided number

Movie hypnotises viewers

Recently the susbut & co movie “Jobless” premiered in central theater. As usual no one was paying attention (because it was a susbut & co movie after all) but about halfway through the movie something in the movie changed ...

On the screen a bunch of creepy dolls where attacking the main character but at the end of the sence all of the remaining dolls stared at the screen & there eyes flashed for a second but in that second all of the people in the movie theater where instantly hypnotized. After that moment it seemed like they where hypnotized they then all started to bang on the movie theater doors yelling LET US OUT. The employees reluctantly opened the door to let the crazed people out after a while they began crawling on all fours towards the susbut & co factory but before they could make it to the factory the police captured them all & put them in a mental facility. As of now the facility is trying to find a cure but for now theyve had no luck

Trial of Bently Collins is over

Throuout the history of Dachs-But there have been many problems with cipherwater including the exploding incident, illegal packs being distributed & people going insane after consuming the packs, but all of the problems couldn't have happened without the ring leader of the operation: Bently Collins

The ringleader along with his minions the legged legs where caught running the largest distribution of cipherwater & where charged with illegally distributing goods there trial began on january 14th with no conclusion reached however on tuesday another jury & judge Martha assembled to give the final conclusion

The trial lasted over 2 hours with multiple surprise witnesses lots of arguing & at one point a limby leg tried to attack the judge but in the end all of Bentley's efforts where futile. he & his limby legged friends where locked up in the national prison. Bently got a sentence of 19 years with no chance for parole, while his limby legged friends only got 2. even with Mr fugitive locked up bags of cipherwater are still in circulation so if you see a bag make Shure to report it to the police
